About us:

netBlazr helps businesses build a broadband cooperative, which delivers free internet service to its members. We are Skype for Broadband. We have a disruptive, freemium business model and our customers are enthusiastic supporters of our mission. We've bootstrapped our business to date and expect to raise seed capital in the second half of 2011.

netBlazr is a finalist in the 2011 MassChallenge and 2011 MITX Innovation Award Winner.

Position Overview:

We seek a creative and ambitious coder to join our founder team. Now is the time to get in on the ground floor and make an impact. We're looking for a software genius to help design, build, integrate, and maintain our cloud software platform: network management, community management, website, and services management.

Qualifications:

- Creative problem solver, with ability to learn quickly
- Strong desire to make an impact in wireless, networking, and software development
- Strong desire to “roll up sleeves” and solve technical problems by producing code and debugging fundamental design issues
- Programming expertise in Java/J2EE, MySQL with DB schema design. Experience with iBatis and/or Spring frameworks a plus
- Ability to develop/maintain scripts, coding experience with PHP and exposure to LAMP based applications
- Knowledge of TCP/IP and network programming, including OSPF, BGP, and other routing algorithms
- Knowledge of wireless security, Public Key Infrastructure, RADIUS and other AAA solutions
- Previous contributions to open source projects are a plus
- Interest in entrepreneurship – previous exposure to start-up work environment is desirable.
- BS or MS degree in CS, EE, MIS or related IT field
